

Time is Just a Number
Words & Music J Cope

- Intro E | E | E | E (riff E D B A G F#m E) |
- Ch E
Time is just a number with a bit of night and day
A E
It makes it kinda easier when you think about it that way
E
If you're scared of dying and you kinda get a fright
A B A E
Time is just a number with a bit of day and a bit of night
- V1 A
I was standing on a beach and I watched the sun go down
E
But I know that in a little while it comes right back on round
A
I'm crossing off my calendar, hanging in the hall
B A
All those little numbers, yeah, that keep us right on course
E
So it's 50 weeks to Christmas, so my little daughter says
A E
She's sending lists to Santa every night before her bed
E
I'm putting in some money to a monthly investment
A B A E
They say in 50 years that I'll be rich, but I'll be dead.
- Ch E
Time is just a number with a bit of night and day
A E
It makes it kinda easier when you think about it that way
E
If you're scared of dying and you kinda get a fright
A B A E
Time is just a number with a bit of day and a bit of night
- Br (solo) | D | A | E | E | (x 4 with riff)
- V2 And dead men don't wear watches, so I've heard it said
They're sleeping they don't need to set no clocks beside their beds
I was born on Sunday, on the seventh day of rest
But my mother didn't think so when she held me to her breast
(breakdown)
And if you're feeling funny, kinda existentialist
You better call that barman back and have another drink
Your drinking to your future while you reconcile your past
These momentary freedoms, just might be your last.
- Ch Time is just a number with a bit of night and day
It makes it kinda easier when you think about it that way
If you're scared of dying and you kinda get a fright
Time is just a number with a bit of day and a bit of night (x 2 tags)
