The sun was shining, he was driving his car
A7 D7
Over the old bridge, down by the Swan Bar
A7 D7
Cruising along in his old HQ
A7 G D
'Til he was pulled over by the boys in blue
- V2 A7 D7
'How old's this car ?' '75'
A7 D7
I see you've got some outstanding fines
A7 D7
$1,400, have you got that on you now ?
A7 G D
You'd better come to the station with us, anyhow'
- Ch A G D
It's a thin line, they say
A G D
That's what he was finding out that day
A G D
It's a thin line, walk tall
A G D
Don't get caught out on the wrong side of the law
- V3 I see you've got lots of unpaid tickets,
For not wearing your bicycle helmet
There's a way you can pay off the fines
Spend the weekend here doing time
- Ch It's a thin line, they say
That's what he was finding out that day
It's a thin line, walk tall
Don't get caught out on the wrong side of the law
- Ch (solo) It's a thin line x 2
- V4 Six o'clock there's a change of shift
New Sergeant says 'Can't spend the night in here'
He was transported to a security jail
Finger prints & overalls and thrown into a cell
- V5 'I'm not meant to be here, really I ain't'
'That's what we all say', said his manslaughter cellmate
'What you in for ? What you did ?'
'I didn't wear my bicycle helmet !'
- Ch It's a thin line, they say...
- V (solo)
- V6 Early morn, wife rings the station
Freaks out when she hears he moved to another location
By 8am the Warden's at the gate
'Mr Ferrari there's been a mistake'
- Ch x 2 It's a thin line, they say...
